THE VESSEL

A trailerable weekender — enclosed wheelhouse, trailer included.

This 2019 Jeanneau NC 695 Weekender is the boat that proves you do not need forty feet to cruise properly. The NC formula puts a genuinely enclosed wheelhouse, a sliding side door and real overnight accommodation into a hull short enough to tow behind a properly rated vehicle — and she comes with her Pacific tandem-axle trailer included in the sale.

The wheelhouse closes up completely against weather, with a sliding door aft to the cockpit and a second door forward to the side deck for line handling. Inside, the saloon table and wraparound settee drop down to form a berth, with a further cabin forward. It is the layout that made the NC range Jeanneau's best-selling powerboat line, and it works as well on Puget Sound as it does in the Med.

Outboard power keeps things simple: nothing under the sole to service, an easy repower path down the road, and shallow draft when you want to nose into a beach. Deck hardware is straightforward and the hardtop carries the model's signature wraparound glass, so visibility from the helm is excellent in close quarters.

Offered at $72,000 with the trailer. That combination — enclosed wheelhouse, sleeping accommodation, and the freedom to tow her to new water — is genuinely hard to find at this price. Sea trial available on request.
